Crescent City News

CRESCENT CITY.

is one of the most beautiful locations in Florida. Tourists will find it an ideal spot to spend the winter, or pass a few days of keen delight.

The town is on Crescent Lake (an arm of the St. Johns River) and is 100 miles by water, and 77 miles by rail from Jacksonville.

The all day river ride on the steamer Crescent, from Jacksonville to Crescent City, is one of the delightful experiences of Florida travel. The steamer leaves Jacksonville at 8 a. m. every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, reaching Crescent City at 6 p. m. This trip is the only daylight ride up the broad and picturesque St. Johns. The steamer has pretty cabins and offers a delightful outlook even in stormy weather.

Crescent City is the center of the orange growing industry in middle Florida, and beautiful groves surround the place. Good boating, hunting and fishing will afford amusement for sportsmen.

Naptha launches can be secured cheaply for water trips. Crescent City has good hotels and boarding houses at moderate rates.

Beautiful shaded walks and bicycle paths.

Personal and Social.

C. H. Preston spent a portion of last week in Jacksonville.

E. V. Landberg received $1.75 per crate net for his first shipment of squashes.

James Padgett, sr., is preparing to build an addition to his home on Oakwood ave.

Capt. J. W. Miller is again about and attending to business. Some men won't down.

T. S. Bates expects to go to Chicago and other points in the north in July to remain until fall.

K. Borsen spent Monday and Tuesday at Seabreeze arranging for a cottage home on the beach for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Appleby have moved to the home and farm near Crescent City Junction recently purchased by A. B. Appleby. The place has been greatly improved.

Editor H. A. B. McKenzie of the Palatka Times-Herald spent Sunday here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Appleby, and had time to greet very many of his old friends, whom he can number by the great gross.

The colored base ball club went to Seville on Saturday and played with the colored team at that place. The end of the game resulted in a tie, but as the Seville club refused to continue, the game was awarded the Crescent City players. The score was 11 to 11.

Frank Gautier proposes to build a home on the half block recently purchased on Park and Prospect streets next south of the Hawkins place. Much of the lumber for the new home will be taken from the house on his grove lot, once the home of his brother, D. N. Gautier.

George Jeal has accepted the care of the grove and grounds at Hubbard Park, which insures that this beautiful place will continue to be the pride of Crescent City. Mr. Jeal is a man of excellent taste and large experience as an horticulturalist, and the Hubbard estate is to be congratulated in securing his services.

Dr. E. W. Warren has purchased quite a large tract of land on the west side of the railway at Denver, and will set out several acres in peach trees. The peach growers at Seville are doing well with their peaches and there seems to be no valid reason why they should not be grown even more extensively in this section.

Next Sunday the worshippers at the A. M. E. church will indulge in a "rally day," the same to be the culmination of an effort, or efforts, that have been making by the pastor and people during the past six weeks to raise funds with which to repair their church. Pastor Johnson is a worker and under his administration this colored church has thrived.

The lecture at the Auditorium next Tuesday night by Rev. Edward J. Young of Comco, formerly of New Orleans, should be well patronized. In a note to the editor Mr. Young states that the lecture is not delivered for pecuniary gain, but that he hopes the offering will be sufficient to pay the expenses of hall, etc. There will be no admission fee. Everybody is cordially invited.

All neighboring towns should take notice that Crescent City proposes to celebrate the Fourth of July in a fitting manner this year, and prepare to come and join their patriotism to ours. The celebration will be under the auspices of the ladies of the V. I. A. and there will be a picnic with ice cream, music and dancing. Fireworks and oratory will also come in for a share of the celebration. Watch us. There will be a program later.

The public school closes a very successful year today with simple exercises. Only good words are heard concerning the work of Principal Moffatt and Miss Bard.

The Presbyterian church has been furnished with new hanging lamps, the same being a big improvement over the old ones in illuminating qualities. The lamps were purchased by the Ladies Aid Society.

Messrs. James and B. A. Combs who recently purchased homes and land north of town are making quite a success of gardening. A large part of the fresh vegetables and all the tomatoes and celery in the local market comes from their places. Mr. B. A. Combs shipped a half dozen crates of cucumbers to the northern market on Monday and other shipments followed later in the week. Mr. Combs has been shipping vegetables for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dawes left on Wednesday for New York where they will spend the summer, and where Mr. Dawes will fill the place of superintendent of the grounds of the Richmond County Tennis Club. The change is made in the interest of Mr. Dawes' health and all his friends here are hoping for his speedy recovery. They will be gone until the first of November and during their absence their grove property will be under the management of Mr. Hunter.

This is important. A prominent citizen of Crescent City was asked by the News if it was his purpose to build a home here. This is his answer: "Well, I'm on the fence. Don't know. It's going to depend on what is done in this school matter. If the graded school is established I will stay. If it is not I shall be compelled to move away. My children must live where they can get an education." Crescent City will begin to grow when it has the right kind of a school.

H. N. Antisdal of Denver, Colo., was in the city from Wednesday, the 17th to Monday the 22d, during which time he looked over the town and contiguous country with the view to locating here. Before going Mr. Antisdal made two contingent offers for properties, and it is likely that at least one of them may be accepted, in which event he would return. Mr. Antisdal has been a commercial traveler for many years, but as he was born in the country and is getting tired of the road, he wants to get where he can garden and grow fruit. He likes Crescent City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buck left on Wednesday for Philadelphia where they will spend the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Buck are generally the first of our winter residents to arrive in the fall and the last to leave in the spring, and their going is always a cause for general regret. Mr. Buck's grove and garden is one of the beauty spots of the place, all due to the painstaking care with which the inclosure is cultivated. Across the entire street front of his grove and next to the fence is a row of roses, and at all times of year it is possible to pick a beautiful bouquet of these flowers. The entire place is well cultivated, the trees look thrifty and a trip through the grove will convince one that Mr. Buck will have many oranges to ship the coming winter. Near the lake front there is a thrifty garden and corn field, and Mr. Buck says that the corn will bear in the proportion of 40 bushels to the acre.

A Valuable Remedy.
Maj. J. L. Burton is constantly being importuned to give to the world a valuable and, so far as tried, unfailing remedy for rheumatism, stone in the bladder and kidney diseases. The late Dr. E. C. Jenkins of Palatka used the remedy in several cases with pronounced success and we are told made Maj. Burton a large moneyed offer for it. In many local cases of suffering the remedy has cured where all else seemed to fail, and there are many hereabouts who will gladly testify to its efficacy, among them being Hon. J. H. Harp, Chas. Morrow and E. V. Landberg.

Major Burton had the secret from the late Mrs. Jake Burk, who once lived here, and Mrs. Burk got it from a Catholic priest. That the medicine had great value is known from the fact that Mrs. Burk, during her life time, sold at a high price to some proprietary medicine concern, all the roots from which the medicine is extracted that she could gather. It is therefore known to be a component part of some remedy. Maj. Burton claims however, to get the best results, the medicine should be fresh steeped and drank as a tea. There is no doubt but the remedy has wonderful value in the diseases named as is attested by many local cures, and Maj. Burton is being constantly urged to put it on the market. He calls it "Root Tea." No doubt many sufferers who read this would find benefit from its use.

"Should Christians Use Tobacco?"
Rev. Edward J. Young, A. M., B. D., of Lake Como, formerly of New Orleans, La., will deliver a lecture on this subject at the Auditorium, Crescent City, next Tuesday evening, May 30, at 7:30 o'clock sharp. There will be no charge for admission. A collection will be taken up at the conclusion of the lecture to pay hire of hall, janitors, etc. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Burton's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. R. O. Burton, whose death was noted on the first page of this paper last week, occurred from the home last Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the service being conducted by her pastor, Rev. Geo. H. Ward of the Episcopal church. The interment was in the family lot in Palmetto cemetery. The funeral was probably the largest held in Crescent City in recent years, and the whole town was saddened by the death of this good woman. The floral tributes were abundant and beautiful. The people of all this section are offering sincerest sympathy to the bereaved husband and four little motherless girls.

Besides Mrs. D. H. Gautier of Fitzgerald, and Miss Florence Atkins, of Savannah, Ga., sisters of the deceased, her brother, Hon. Victor Atkins, Mayor of Selma, Ala., was present at the funeral.

Death of Mrs. J. Oliver Macdonald.

Mrs. J. Oliver Macdonald died suddenly at her home in Paterson, N. J., last Friday morning, May 19th. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, who have spent several winters at Grove Hall, left here for their home in Paterson some four weeks ago, well and full of hope for a return next season. The sudden death of Mrs. Macdonald will be sad news to our people and all winter guests at our hotels. The following is from the Paterson Morning Call of last Saturday:

"The many friends of Mrs. Henrietta, wife of J. Oliver Macdonald, will be pained to learn of her sudden demise, which occurred yesterday morning. The end came about 11 o'clock, after Mrs. Macdonald had been unconscious for two days, due to apoplexy."

"Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald only a few weeks ago returned from Crescent City, Florida, where it has been their custom to spend the winter months for some years, and Mrs. Macdonald was in the best of health and spirits. Early on Wednesday morning she was stricken with apoplexy, which proved fatal, and she never regained consciousness."

"Mrs. Macdonald's maiden name was Henrietta Sackett, and she was a native of Long Island. She was about sixty years old. Mr. Macdonald was for many years senior superintendent of the local office of the Prudential insurance company, but has lived in retirement for some years at No. 25 Garrison street."

"Aside from her husband, Mrs. Macdonald leaves one son and two daughters, also nine grandchildren, to mourn her demise. These all reside in this city. Henrietta, the eldest, is the wife of Edward Van Houten, the well known local builder; John M. is an assistant superintendent of the Prudential insurance company, and Ella A. is the wife of Charles B. Stagg."

"The funeral will be held from her late residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the interment will be made at Cedar Lawn."

ENGLISH SOCIETY WOMEN.

Caustic Comment on Their Love of Drugs and Liquor.

A prominent London Journal prints the following indictment of the habits of many English society women: "A generation back it was among the lower classes we found intemperance rife, and then it was the beer of the people which supplied the means; to-day we find intemperance rampant from the highest to the lowest, the vehicle being alcohol, impure and simple, vile concoctions labeled indifferently brandy, whisky, gin. Our wearied, jaded votaries of pleasure seek temporary recuperation from these impure sources; then, when their day is done, they resort to the sulphonal, trional, morphia or what not in the vain hope of a night's good rest. Another most appalling fact that we have to face is the rapid increase in the number of women among the inebriate ranks."

"What is the daily life history of a woman in society? Too jaded by self-indulgence, after a night of morbid sleep born of some favorite drug she rises to face a day's racing with its concomitant betting. Her breakfast inadequate, probably supplemented by brandy or whisky and soda; luncheon indigestible, savory but unhealthful bonbons bouches, liberal portions of champagne or, more likely, recourse to familiar brandy or whisky; a rush home, further pandering to a morbid appetite, more champagne, later perhaps a dance or many hours devoted to inevitable bridge, again brandy or whisky and soda, then bed, with sulphonal, trional, morphia or some equally noxious drug."

"No wonder that there is no time, no disposition, for domestic duties, no care for the family life that erst was the backbone of England! Physical and moral degeneration is the inevitable result."

Henry Clay as a Twine Splicer.
It has been said that Henry Clay achieved success so easily that he quite misunderstood others and over-estimated himself. But he was eager to learn the best way to do whatever he had to do. In "The True Henry Clay" the author gives an instance of this:

At fourteen Henry became clerk in a store in Richmond, whither the family had removed. Stories are told of his willingness to do his duty, although the work was distasteful to him.

Once he was reproved by the store-keeper for wasting too much twine. Thereafter he saved every scrap he could get and tied the pieces together. Again it was explained that using this sort of twine might be offensive to the customers, as it made the packages look untidy by reason of too many knots. So he consulted with a sailor at Richmond, who showed him how to splice strings with a smooth joint.

From that time he spent his leisure hours making short pieces of twine of the same size into a continuous cord. When his employer discovered this he was so much pleased that he had all twine saved and turned the task of splicing it over to young Henry, with the result that the young man's enthusiasm rapidly abated.
